Publishers Present Egyptian Ambassador with Copy of New Book; Peace in the Making. The Personal Correspondence between Menachem Begin and Anwar Sadat

Egyptian – Israeli relations experienced an upbeat, positive turn this past week when Egyptian ambassador to Israel His Excellency Yasser Reda was presented with a copy of the new book Peace in the Making published by Gefen Publishing of New York and Jerusalem. The book was presented to Ambassador Reda by the Chairman of Gefen Publishing Mr. Murray Greenfield and Mr. Herzl Makov the Director General of the Menachem Begin Heritage Center in Jerusalem.

Ambassador Reda has already served in diverse places such as China and Cyprus. After receiving the book he stated that he looked forward to seeing the book published in Arabic and being on sale in Egypt.

Peace in the Making contains the history making correspondence between President Anwar Sadat and Prime Minister Menachem Begin the first Israeli and Arab leaders to initiate and secure a peace agreement between their nations.

This correspondence has not previously been available to the public. Negotiations are currently taking place to have the book translated and published in German and French editions. The book will hit US stores on January 20, 2011.

Pictures of the event are attached (see below for names) as well as additional information on the book. Review copies are available if requested.

Sincerely,

Stuart Schnee
